

PORTLAND STREET RESPONSE DESIGN CONTEST

The City of Portland is developing a new first response option: Portland Street Response (PSR), and we want you to help design the logo and van!

The goal of the Portland Street Response is to provide a new branch of first responders who are trained in behavioral health related crisis intervention and first aid that can respond to 911 requests related to a behavioral health crisis or people experiencing houselessness that do not require police, fire, or ambulatory services.

Winners will be announced in the Friday, November 15, 2019 Street Roots paper, Street Roots social media channels, Commissioner Hardesty's social media channels. Winners will also be posted in each of the physical drop-off locations.
